PRICE-EVERETTE WAREHOUSE BILL

Makes Warehoused Cotton Receipts
Give Edge Security—Provides Revolving Fund for Building New Warehouses.

The Warehouse Bill just enacted is one of the most constructive pieces of legislation passed at the present session. The bill as passed is essentially the same as that introduced early in the session by Senator W. B. Cooper, except that it taxes all cotton ginned for the next two years twenty-five cents per bale to provide a guarantee and revolving building fund. Under the terms of the Act the Board of Agriculture can loan 50% of the needed money for constructing warehouses where there are no facilities.

Among the benefits expected from the bill are the following:

- 1st. It will immediately improve storage facilities for North Carolina cotton and thereby insure more graduated marketing of the staple—a reform for which the present crisis shows the imperative need. This will benefit every man who grows cotton no matter whether he stores a pound or not. As providing the facilities for others who do store, will cause the market to be steady and advanced for every man who sells without storing.

2nd. The receipts of every warehouse will be good at any bank anywhere and enable us to borrow wherever money is cheapest.

The bill makes provision for the superintendent to borrow for others in New York or elsewhere.

3rd. It is believed that it will greatly reduce the cost of storage through a reduction in insurance charges and rates. The insurance rate on cotton stored in State Warehouses in South Carolina is only about one-third the present rate in this state.

4th. All cotton stored in the warehouses is to be graded and stapled by State or Federal experts and the superintendent is authorized to act as broker for those having cotton stored when so requested. It is expected that a record of the grade and staple of every bale stored will be kept at a central office and that mills and large exporters will endeavor to locate cotton that they desire and make purchases through the superintendent.

Taken all together there appears to be great possibilities for the benefit of cotton growers in the hill and the Cotton Association at Raleigh hope to see them made available at an early date.

Villages, the needs of the world today call for more cotton than was produced last year and now exceed our needs.

Whereas, the war between Europe and America are taking advantage of the want of cotton for what is needed.

Whereas, the new and low cost cotton available now the cost production is due entirely to economic conditions in the shipping countries and not to us.

CLEE VAUGHAN

WE OFFER EXPERT SERVICE

It requires just as much skill to recharge a battery as it does to rebuild one.

We spent several hundred dollars for Mr. R. A. Miller to learn how to recharge and rebuild storage batteries.

If you wanted your battery overhauled you would go to a battery expert. Why shouldn't you do the same when you want it recharged.

A man should know the inside working of a storage battery in order to recharge it without injury to the battery.
